A University Collects

A University Collects is the title of a recent book published by The University of Alberta Press and edited by Helen Collinson, Curator of the University's Art Gallery and Museum. The work is attractively produced in soft cover and takes the form of a catalogue of the University's major collections, which "is intended to introduce the general public and the University community to the richness and variety of the collections and to give some indication of their extent and depth."

Collections in The University of Alberta are not housed in any single building. Rather, they are spread across the campus near to their related departments. Inasmuch as the prime function of a university is teaching and research, the greater number of the collections presented in the current work reflect that purpose. As the author states in her introduction, "In fields such as anthropology, art, botany, classics, geology, and zoology, for example, museum material is essential. There is no substitute for seeing or handling the real object. . . ."

A University Collects was made possible by generous grants from the Alberta Historical Resources Foundation and the Alma Mater Fund of The University of Alberta. The book, well designed and copiously illustrated in black and white and full color photographs, is available in the University's Bookstore or directly from the publisher. It costs $4.95. □

Board Building Committee

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Governors Building Committee (BBC) was held in University Hall on Tuesday, 18 September 1979. The following matters were among those discussed.

Dentistry-Pharmacy Centre

The Building Committee approved a request for funds to convert rooms 1036-1045 of the Dentistry-Pharmacy Building from storage areas to other purposes. The rooms, formerly assigned to the use of the Faculty of Medicine, will now serve as office space for the full-time Chairman of the Department of Dental Health Care and staff, a supplementary professional activity area for faculty, and a clinical area for continuing education. The estimated completion date for the project is December 1979. The project will cost approximately $145,000.

North Power Plant

The continued renovation of the old North Power Plant was a subject for consideration at the meeting of the BBC. A Design Development Report for Phase II of the project was submitted to the BBC for its approval on 18 September.

The Design Development Report was prepared by four consulting agencies each responsible for one aspect of the proposed design: Frost Brammar Architects (architectural components); T. Lamb, McManus and Associates Ltd. (structural components); Colt Engineering Corporation (mechanical components); and TWS Engineering Ltd. (electrical components). The Prime Consultants for the project are Gary C. Frost Architect Ltd. and PCL (formerly Poole Construction Ltd.).

The Design Development Report was approved on the understanding that final and complete approval of the building systems would come at a later date. It calls for studio space for Art and Design, workshop space, increased administrative space for the Graduate Students' Association, enhanced facilities for the current kitchen to allow it to meet Board of Health requirements, and class and seminar rooms. Wherever possible, the building's existing components will be re-used. Where such action is not possible, however, "the original character, rhythm and construction of the building will be maintained as closely as possible." □

Dr. Charles Hynam

1909-1979

Professor Emeritus Charles Hynam, who retired in 1974 after twelve years of service to the Sociology Department, died suddenly of complications following a minor operation on 11 August 1979.

Charles A.S. Hynam was born in St. Michael, Barbados, and educated at Harrison College, Barbados, and The Imperial College of Tropical Agriculture, Trinidad, graduating in 1930. He spent the next twenty-nine years of his life as an Agricultural Extension Officer in the Caribbean area, holding positions on St. Vincent, Netherlands Windward Islands, Antigua, Trinidad, British Honduras, and Barbados.

In 1959 he began a career in rural sociology and community development, earning MS and PhD degrees from Cornell University. After teaching for one year at Muhlenberg College, Pennsylvania, he was appointed Assistant Professor of Sociology at the University of Alberta in 1962. He was promoted to Associate Professor in 1967, and to full Professor in 1973.

Dr. Hynam's long and varied experience in the Caribbean as an Agricultural Extension Officer informed his later theoretical interpretations of the development process. His graduate work in sociology provided him with an excellent opportunity to reflect upon the practical work he had been doing, and strengthened his convictions about the central importance of comprehensive and humanistic development programs. Alberta provided the context in which he could synthesize his earlier experience and his later studies.

During his years as a sociologist, Dr. Hynam's first love, and his greatest contributions were made in the field of Community Development. His activities included guiding and promoting the Community Development program at The University of Alberta, training Community Development students, promoting interest in Community Development in the province of Alberta, and publishing papers on this subject.

Dr. Hynam served as first Chairman/Coordinator of the interdisciplinary program in Community Development at the University when it began in 1968. He remained actively involved in teaching, research, and administration in this area until his retirement. He was largely responsible for the early design of the graduate curriculum in Community Development and, at one time or another, taught most of the core courses in that program. In addition to teaching the central courses in the program, he served on a large number of thesis committees either as supervisor or as a committee member.

Dr. Hynam's early career at The University of Alberta involved him in developing community development programs which served the Indian and Métis population of the province. When the provincial government hired its first Community Development worker, Dr. Hynam was the first staff member of the University to applaud this act and to see its potential. He remained closely identified with the Human Resource Development Authority of the provincial government as an adviser, and critic, and helped provide much of the vision. Highly regarded by the practitioners in the field, he was frequently called upon for assistance, providing leadership not only on this campus but also throughout Canada to a gradually increasing number of academics and practitioners in the field. Several of his monographs are used in the Community Development program at The University of Alberta and in other universities as well.

For Charles Hynam, Community Development was an attempt to apply democratic theory and principles in a very practical way. He saw this as an ideal, a way of life, a philosophy, and he made no apology for the fact. He was convinced that human development could only take place through the maximum involvement of people in society, so that their energies could be directed toward building a better world and he devoted his years as a sociologist to this goal. His total commitment to this principal was an inspiration to his students and colleagues alike.

Dr. Hynam is survived by his wife, Ruby Thelma, better known as Flaxie, and by his daughter Penelope. □

Neuropsychopharmacology

The Canadian College of Neuropsychopharmacology (CCNP) will hold its third annual meeting 12 and 13 May 1980, at the University under the auspices of the Faculties of Medicine (Departments of Psychiatry and Pharmacology) and Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences. Communications will be presented at the Basic Medical Sciences Building. The three major symposia will be entitled "Depression—etiological and pharmacological aspects," "Benzodiazepines" and "GABAergic mechanisms in the central nervous system." Guest speakers will include Drs. M. Sandler (London, England), S. Enna (Houston, Texas), D. Greenblatt (Boston, Mass.), R. Shader (Boston, Mass.), H. Fibiger (Vancouver, B.C.), H. Roberston (Halifax, N.S.), A. Boulton (Saskatoon, Sask.), and J. Wood (Saskatoon, Sask.). Free communications given by, or sponsored by, CCNP members will also be included in the program. Further information may be obtained from Dr. G. Baker, Secretary of the Local Organizing Committee, Room 1-107, Department of Psychiatry, Clinical Sciences Building. □

Neurochemical Research Unit

A Neurochemical Research Unit has been established jointly by the Faculty of Medicine (Department of Psychiatry) and the Faculty of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences. The joint Directors of the Unit are Dr. W.G. Dewhurst, Chairman, Department of Psychiatry and Dr. R.T. Coutts, Professor and Assistant Dean, Faculty of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences; Dr. G.B. Baker (Department of Psychiatry) is the Assistant Director. Another twelve individuals (professors, research associates, postdoctoral fellows, and technicians) are participants in the Unit. Members of the Unit will cooperate in studies on the synthesis, chemical analysis, metabolism, tissue distribution, and neuropsychopharmacological properties of drugs and endogenous amines, and their analysis in brain and other tissues, blood, and urine. The creation of the Unit will aid the research of both participating faculties (who have cooperated in the past in an informal manner), and, it is hoped, will ultimately benefit patients with various mental disorders. □

Einstein Display

A well-documented display on the life of Albert Einstein has been set up on the seventh floor of the Physics Building. The display, on loan to the University through the graces of the German Consulate in the city, is a centennial effort which makes judicious use of printed matter and photographs. There are twenty-five panels in the display and, with both sides of each panel utilized, visitors are assured of encountering some aspects of the man which they can likely relate to.

Einstein's youth, profession and vocation, legendary fame and political opinions are just some of the sections covered in the display. The atomic age is also taken into account and one can read the letter of 2 August 1939 to American President Roosevelt in which Einstein provided the impetus for the construction of the atomic bomb in the United States. It is pointed out that only his fear that an atomic bomb would be built in Germany moved Einstein to write the letter and that, besides his science, nothing had occupied him so much as his concern over an atomic catastrophe.

The display, which includes a chronology of Einstein's life and achievements, refers to him as a genius of a calibre occurring only once every few hundred years. "It was he who elevated theoretical physics from a neglected, in fact, disdained specialization to the very core and basic discipline of the whole of natural science. The Special and General Theories of Relativity established by Einstein and the Quantum Theory which he so decisively supported are amongst the greatest ever formulated by Man."

The loan of the display is one of indefinite duration. Viewing hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. □

Conference Funds Committee

The Conference Fund of the University is intended for the financial support of conferences, conventions, and symposia of an academic nature (as distinct from visiting lectureships) held in the province and sponsored or hosted by the University or its students or student organizations. The Fund is administered by a Conference Funds Committee of General Faculties Council and is the only fund in the University for this purpose. All applications for grants should be submitted to the Chairman of the Committee. Special application forms are available along with related information sheets. The current chairman is M.A. May, Department of Secondary Education, 353 Education South, telephone 432-5613.

Visitor Parking

Staff members are reminded that advance parking arrangements should be made with Parking Services for persons invited to the University as guest speakers or for other purposes related to Departmental functions.

This cooperation is necessary so that such persons may park their vehicles on the campus in accordance with the Traffic and Parking Regulations of the University.

NASA Mixed Curling League

The NASA Mixed Curling League will start its activities on Monday, 1 October 1979. Curling will take place in the basement of SUB every Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. Contact Ann Campbell, 432-4578.

Policy on Contracts and Commitments

The following information has been received from David Norwood, Assistant to the Vice-President Finance and Administration.

Preamble

In the past, there has been little or no coordination of administrative matters related to certain types of contracts and commitments involving the University and outside parties, which has resulted in a number of internal problems:

1. Insurance coverage in relation to liability or other risk exposure is often overlooked.
2. Funds in respect to such contracts and commitments are not sent to the appropriate University officer, creating difficulties in determining the related contracts or commitments with which they are associated.
3. Legal considerations and overhead allowances are often overlooked.
4. Space considerations are sometimes overlooked.
5. Contracts and commitments are not always executed by the appropriate University authorities.
6. There is no central registry of contracts and commitments between the University and outside parties, which creates difficulties in establishing the nature, status, and extent of these relationships.

Objective

1. The objective of the policy is to coordinate the administrative requirements of contracts and commitments between The University of Alberta and individuals, groups, agencies, or Institutions outside the University. These contracts and commitments normally involve funding, liability, or other obligations on the part of the University toward outside parties, including companies, private organizations, governments and their agencies, and so on.
2. Only the following contracts and commitments are excluded from this policy: (a) those now administered by the Research Grants and Contracts Office; (b) those now administered by the Office of Community Relations; (c) those now administered by the Office of Student Awards; (d) those involving the acquisition, rather than the provision, of goods and services outside the University; and (e) those standard form contracts used by service, support, or ancillary departments which have been approved by the responsible Vice-President.

3. General examples of contracts and commitments to be coordinated under this policy include (a) conditional and special operating, capital, or other grants from governments and their agencies, from private organizations, and from other sources and (b) affiliation agreements involving other educational institutions and organizations, hospitals, and other groups and organizations.

4. Specific examples of contracts and commitments include those involving the Provincial Laboratories; the conditional grants for the Mineral Engineering Program; Innovative Projects; temporary employment programs; negotiated development grants and other grants from such agencies as the Canada Council-SSHRC, CIDA, CUSO, LIP, TRIUMF; hospital affiliation agreements; and the supply of utilities to the greater campus area.

Administrative requirements

1. Faculties and Departments are requested to negotiate contracts and commitments of the nature described above in consultation with the Office of the Vice-President (Finance and Administration). This Office will coordinate consideration of (a) academic implications; (b) staffing, space, indemnity, and liability arrangements; (c) funding in relation to the estimated capital costs and the direct and indirect operating costs; (d) budgetary implications upon expiry of the contracts or commitment; (e) legal implications including any limitations or requirements under the Universities Act; and (f) any required committee or other approval within the University.
2. Contractual documents should indicate that: (a) any notices to the University are to be sent to the Vice-President (Finance and Administration) and (b) any payments to the University are to be sent to the Comptroller.
3. Execution of the final contractual or other documents by the appropriate University signatories will be arranged by the Office of the Vice-President (Finance and Administration). That Office will distribute copies of the executed documents to the involved Faculty or Department, the appropriate Vice-President(s), the Comptroller's Office and elsewhere as required. One copy of the executed documents will be retained in the Office of the Vice-President (Finance and Administration) which will maintain the central registry of the described contracts and commitments.
4. Under this arrangement, negotiations with outside parties will continue to be the responsibility of the involved Faculties and Departments. Consultation with the Office of the Vice-President (Finance and Administration) does not preclude direct discussion of the proposed contracts or commitments with the President or other Vice-Presidents. Enquiries about the policy and the administrative requirements should be directed to D.C. Norwood, Assistant to the Vice-President (Finance and Administration), 3-22 University Hall, telephone 432-4730.

The Senate

The University of Alberta

Annual Report 1978-79

Formal Highlights of the Year

■ On 1 July 1978, Mrs. Jean B. Forest began her four-year term as 11th Chancellor of The University of Alberta. Her Installation, at the Fall Convocation on 25 November 1978, was a ceremony of dignity and graciousness, and her Installation Address was warmly received. In addition to the installation of the Chancellor, honorary degrees were conferred on Dr. Hans Selye and on Mr. Frank Spragins (posthumously). 471 students attended Convocation, out of a total of 1,325 graduands.

■ Faculté St-Jean asked for and received permission to hold a Special Convocation to celebrate recognition of its status as a full Faculty, and on 4 May 1979 in Convocation Hall, the Chancellor conferred honorary degrees on Mme. Antonine Maillet and Father Lacerte, OMI. It was an occasion of great importance for the Faculty, the University, and for the French-Canadian community in Alberta.

■ The regular Spring Convocation was extended to four days this year, in order to accommodate the increasing number of graduates and their guests who are choosing to attend. Honorary degrees were conferred on Professor Emeritus W. Pilkington (28 May), Chief Justice J.V.H. Milvain (29 May), Mr. M.W. Ward (30 May) and Dr. M.L. Van Vliet (31 May). It was the last time Dr. Gunning would attend Convocation as President. In all, 1,774 students attended Convocation, out of a total of 3,817 graduands.

Activities of Task Force Groups

"It is the duty of a senate to enquire into any matter that might enhance the usefulness of the university," and in carrying out this mandate during 1978-79, The Senate at The University of Alberta received two major task force reports. On 23 February 1979, the Report of the Task Force on Visiting International Students in Alberta (VISA) was presented by Dr. Kandler, Chairman, and other members of the task force. On 27 April 1979, the Report of the Task Force on Children and Others with Learning Disabilities was presented by Dr. Brosseau and Dr. Lock, Co-chairmen, and others of the group. The recommendations contained in both of these Reports were forwarded to appropriate agencies by the Executive Committee at the request of Senate.

In addition, Dr. Kandler met with the Minister's Advisory Committee on Student Affairs in Banff to discuss the Task Force Report on VISA Students. The Chancellor, Dr. Kandler, and Dr. Lock met with members of the Minister's Advisory Committee on University Affairs to bring both Senate reports to the attention of the committee. It is a relatively new venture for Senate to make presentations to the Minister's Advisory Committees, and it appears to be a sound way for an informed opinion to reach the Minister's attention. The Chancellor was asked by Senate

Dr. Lock, Dr. Kandler, and the Chancellor represented the Senate at an open meeting of the Minister's Advisory Committee on University Affairs on 11 June 1979 to meet personally with the Ministers of Advanced Education and Manpower, Education, Hospitals, and Social Services and Community Health, to bring to their attention some of the recommendations in the learning disabilities report that are particularly relevant to their departments.

To date, the Chancellor has met with the Hon. James Horsman, the Hon. David King, and the Hon. David Russell. Distribution of both of these newly-presented Task Force Reports has been very extensive, with many Canadian universities particularly interested in VISA students. Distribution of the Report on learning disabilities has until now been mainly in Alberta, though it is expected that requests will come from other provinces. It is the policy of Senate to forward copies of its Task Force Reports to anyone who requests them, at no charge.

Senate is authorized to make recommendations to various bodies on and off campus, through its Task Force Reports, and members of Senate are increasingly interested in follow-up to the various reports. At the 23 February 1979 meeting of Senate, information was given on progress made regarding the Task Force Report on Native Students presented to Senate in February 1978, and Mrs. Brooks met with the Minister's Advisory Committee on Native Peoples Education to discuss the findings with its members. A detailed investigation was commissioned relating to Recommendation #15 of the Task Force on the Status of Women, presented to Senate in March 1975, and this follow-up report was received in November 1978. In view of the continuing interest of Senate members in this Report, Dr. Horowitz (Vice-President [Academic]) offered to bring to Senate a further report in November 1979, encompassing information on all recommendations contained in the Report. Follow-up reports will be brought to Senate relating to both the VISA students and learning disabilities reports.

Committee Business

The regular business of Senate is carried on through standing committees, which are the Executive, Honorary Degrees, Nominating, and Emil Skarin Fund Committees.

The Executive Committee meets monthly to conduct the general business of Senate. All Senate members are welcome to attend these meetings, and all actions are subject to ratification at a full meeting of Senate.

The Nominating Committee meets to compile a slate of names for election to Senate. This Committee regards broad and well balanced representation as most important to Senate membership, and it strives to maintain this by advertising for nominations and by considering very carefully those received. This Committee also recommends to Senate names of those who should be appointed to the standing committees, and is consulted when other appointments have to be made. In addition, the Committee organizes orientation for new Senate members.

The Honorary Degrees Committee meets to choose recipients for honorary degrees for the Spring, Fall, and any Special Convocations. A continuing concern of this Committee is that all recipients should be worthy of the honor being accorded.

The Emil Skarin Fund Committee arranges for the distribution of monies accruing from the Emil Skarin Bequest, according to the terms of reference agreed with Mrs. Skarin. Preference is given to projects with an emphasis on the humanities and the arts. Recipients this year were Dr. John Baxter, editor of the interdisciplinary journal The Compass; and the Society for Talent Education for the purchase of small sized string instruments used in teaching of music to children.

In addition to the standing committees, Senate has received reports from several ad hoc committees. A group reviewed the contents of the Task Force on Student Finance (November 1973), invited Mr. Hemingway of the Students' Finance Board to a Senate meeting, and presented a Brief to Senate for forwarding to the Minister's Task Force on Student Contributions to Post-Secondary Education (Grantham Committee). After publication of the Minister's Task Force Report (Grantham Report), another ad hoc committee prepared a response, which was discussed by Senate at its April meeting and subsequently forwarded to the Minister.

A committee continuing from 1977-78 reviewed the role of the Executive and the Executive Officer. This committee presented an interim report in April and then a final report in September 1978. As a result of Senate's acceptance of this report, a search committee was set up to advertise for and recommend two names for an Executive Officer of Senate. The appointment of Mrs. Mary Totman was made at the February meeting, effective 1 March 1979, for an initial period of two years.

Senate reviewed the very significant report of the University Priorities Committee established by the President at the direction of the Board of Governors, and forwarded to the Board its commendation of a quality report.

An item which created great interest was the Universities Amendment Act 1978 (Bill 78). Apart from several housekeeping items, the main clause which concerned Senate was that relating to the possible extension of degree-granting privileges enjoyed by institutions other than universities. This proposed legislation was tabled and has still to be presented at a future sitting of the

The Chancellor and the Executive Officer of Senate, Mrs. M. Totman

Legislature. An ad hoc committee presented a paper containing a comprehensive and balanced discussion of some of the implications of such a change. This was forwarded to the then-Minister of Advanced Education and Manpower. Subsequently, it was decided that copies would be presented before the beginning of the Fall Session 1979 to as many MLAs as possible by individual Senate members (the Universities of Calgary and Lethbridge planned to do the same thing), to ensure that some of the concerns regarding the significant changes proposed would be brought to the attention of those people about to make a decision. Senate was adamant that the legislation as proposed would, if passed, substantially change what was the traditional concept of a degree-granting institution.

Other ad hoc committees reviewed guidelines for Task Forces, and the feasibility of a Senate meeting being held outside of Edmonton. As a result of the deliberations of this latter committee, it was decided that the first meeting of the 1979-80 year would be held in St. Paul. This meeting would include a seminar for Senate members, an innovation for The University of Alberta Senate.

Other On-Campus Activity

At the request of the General Faculties Council, lay members of Senate were appointed to observe the admissions process in "quota faculties," and later they met with the GFC Committee on Admissions and Transfer to record their comments. Senate members were pleased to be invited to serve in this way.

Other areas in which Senate members became involved on campus during 1978-79 were the Search Committee for a President (the Chancellor and one Senate member); the Faculty of Extension Council (five Senate members); the GFC Academic Development Committee (a Senate observer); the Galbraith Award in Journalism Committee; the University of Alberta 75 Anniversary Committee; as well as the statutory appointment of one member to the Board of Governors. Through these varied services, Senate members continue to give many unstinting and valued volunteer hours to The University of Alberta.

The Senate asked one of its members, Mr. Flewwelling, to travel to Ottawa to receive on behalf of the University the Heritage Canada Award for the restoration of Athabasca Hall; and, at its November meeting, presented the Heritage Canada Bronze Medal to the architect of that and the Pembina Hall restoration, Mr. Mickey Holland. Senate also instigated an application to Heritage Canada for the restoration of Convocation Hall for one of that federal agency's awards in 1979-80; and, on a motion presented by the President of the Students' Union, supported a request to the Board of Governors to consider seriously the renovation of Assiniboia Hall.

A newly-introduced item on the agenda for regular meetings of Senate is the presentation by various Faculties of information about their work aims, problems and successes. The Faculty of Agriculture and Forestry, the Admissions Policy, Evaluation and Liaison Division of the Registrar's Office, the Faculty of Arts, and the Faculty of Business Administration and Commerce have all been guests of Senate. It can only increase the effectiveness of Senate to be exposed to presentations such as these, and they have been received with great interest by Senate members.

As Executive Officer of Senate, Mrs. Totman continues to be a member of the Folio/New Trail Advisory Group, the Freshman Orientation Seminars Advisory Board, and the Convocation Committee. She has also represented the Chancellor at meetings regarding the recently re-established Varsity Guest Weekend.

Off-Campus Activity

One area of increased activity is that of liaison with other universities in Alberta. Mrs. Totman attended a meeting of the University of Lethbridge Senate, and two meetings of the Senate at the University of Calgary. In addition, one Senate member, Miss Verdin, also visited Lethbridge and a student member, Ms. Frank, attended the special Senate meeting in Calgary to consider the response of that university to the Grantham Report. In all cases, the warmth of the reception at the other two universities was obvious. The Senate of The University of Alberta has been privileged to welcome the executive officers from Calgary (Ms. Clarke) and from Lethbridge (Mr. Dunstan) on several occasions.

Activity of The Chancellor

According to The Universities Act, the Chancellor represents the public interest in the University. In that capacity, she is Chairman of Senate; an ex officio member of the Board of Governors (and serves on that body's Executive and Community Relations committees); and presides at Convocation. In addition to these duties, she has represented the University at many official functions; undertaken speaking engagements to groups on and off campus; and has held informal meetings with many people: students, graduate students, alumni of the University, government officials, His Worship the Mayor of Edmonton and members of the city administration, and representatives of labor and management groups. She plans to continue these contacts, listening to the various concerns different people may have regarding the University, and trying at the same time to present to the off-campus community some of the most significant aspects of the University. The Chancellors at the three Alberta universities, each with an executive committee member, together with the Chairman of the Governing Council at Athabasca University, have begun regular meetings to discuss items of mutual interest. These will be continued during the coming year.

Coming Year 1979-80

This coming year there will be at least nineteen new members of Senate. It will be a challenge to involve these people as quickly as possible in the many varied aspects of the work of the Senate. As will be obvious, there are many opportunities to serve The University of Alberta through Senate, and it is felt that the continuing contributions which Senate will make to the University will depend both on the expertise and enthusiasm of experienced Senate members, and the fresh approach brought by the new members.

Farewells

Two presentations have been made this year to persons who have had long and valuable association with the Senate. The Registrar of The University of Alberta, Mr. Alex Cairns, who was for many years the Secretary to The Senate, retired from the University, and Senate members presented him with a token of their regard and appreciation, especially for the continued interest he took in the work of Senate after he was no longer officially connected with it. Senate similarly made a presentation to Dr. Gunning at his last Senate meeting as President, in recognition of his support and interest.
